Globe-Girdlers And Plane

Old Record Is Halved By Jets

8-Engine Bombers Average 525 MPH For 24,325 Mi.

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Three Air Force Strato-fortresses sped in Friday from a 45-hour, 19-minute non-stop round-the-world flight, made to prove the United States can drop a hydrogen bomb anywhere on earth.

The first of the eight-engine jet B52s completed the epochal flight at 10:19 a.m. (PST). The others rolled in at 80-second intervals.

It was the first nonstop globe-girdling flight by jet planes. The average speed was about 525 miles an hour.

Their time for the 24,325-mile flight was less than half the 94 hours, 1 minute required by the propeller-driven B50, Lucky Lady II, on the first nonstop flight around the world in 1949.

The three mammoth planes streaked over the March AFB runway in formation, circled and came in smoothly. They rolled 6,000 feet down the runway, then lumbered back to cheering acclaim by a thousand airmen, relatives and newsmen.

Gen. Curtis LeMay, commander in chief of the Strategic Air Command, met the 27 crewmen and pinned the Distinguished Flying Cross on each.

Maj. Gen. Archie J. Old Jr., commander of the 15th Air Force and in command of the lead plane, was the first to step down and commented the flight was "a routine training mission."

But the Air Force said it was a demonstration of its "capability to drop a hydrogen bomb anywhere in the world."

Took Off Wednesday

Five Strato-fortresses took off from Castle Air Force Base near Merced, Calif., at 1 p.m. Wednesday in close secrecy that wasn't broken up until Thursday night.

Gen. LeMay disclosed one of the planes landed in England "as planned"; another in Labrador "not as planned." He did not give the reason for the Labrador landing.

The three bombers looped the globe by way of Newfoundland, French Morocco, Saudi Arabia, the coasts of India and Ceylon, the Philippine Islands and Guam.

Off the southern tip of the Malay Peninsula, the bombers made a mock bomb drop. The planes were unarmed but the drop was under simulated combat conditions, Gen. LeMay said.

The planes, which have a range of some 6,000 miles, were refueled in flight by KC97 aerial tankers. The number of refuelings was not revealed.

20,000-Pound Load

The Boeing-built B52 is billed as America's first-line heavy bomber. It has a ceiling of 50,000 feet, a top speed of 650 m.p.h. and can carry a bomb load of 20,000 pounds.

Its dimensions, as compared with the B29, the big bomber of World War II, are as follows: Wing span 185 feet to 141 feet; length 156 feet to 99 feet; height 46 feet to 28 feet. The B29 had a top speed of 445 m.p.h. and carried a 10,000-pound bomb load.

The crewmen looked surprisingly fresh despite little or no sleep when they came out of their planes.

Gen. Old Congratulated

Gen. LeMay grabbed Gen. Old's hand and said: "It was a good job. A good job all the way."

After pinning the DFCs on the chests of the round-the-world crewmen, Gen. LeMay said: "These boys were decorated for their hard work. I would like to decorate all of the men in the Strategic Air Command."

Gen. Old said he didn't sleep at all. Maj. Dzierski said he slept about four hours.

Most of the crewmen got a few hours of sleep. Their main meals were minute steaks cooked aboard.

The mission was so secret that wives who were on hand to greet their husbands, thought they were returning from a routine flight.

Solon Cites 'Pressure' As Committee Kills Truck Bill

...Lautenschlager Requests Action

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A Nebraska state senator called for killing of a truck-length bill before a committee Friday because he was "pressured" into including too many provisions.

The senator is Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island. The committee agreed and killed the bill. In an unusual action, the first-term senator requested the committee on miscellaneous subjects to withdraw LB 63 at his request. The bill was co-signed by Sen. William S. Moulton of Omaha.

In a prepared statement, Sen. Lautenschlager said he felt "additions" to the bill requested by the Nebraska Motor Carriers' Assn. "would not be agreeable to the people of Nebraska—or this Legislature."

"This group then advised me that they could not go along with this line of reasoning, and as a result they would introduce a bill of their own," the senator said. He noted the group would go on "record" that my effort reflected only my individual desire rather than that of the "trucking association."

Sen. Lautenschlager said his original proposal was, in his "sincere conviction," a change that would greatly benefit the state of Nebraska. The bill would increase the maximum length of trucks from 50 to 60 feet.

Paul Halpine, representing the Motor Carriers' Assn., told the committee the truck-length increase bill would "encourage new industry to come to our state." A later bill "which will be introduced" will affect all of the state economy, Halpine said, and "would encourage new industry to a far greater degree than LB 63."

The proposed bill has been approved by the Nebraska State Highway Department, Halpine said, and "would make Nebraska uniform" with 11 western states. It will incorporate all of the provisions of LB 63 and will deal with the same subject matter, Halpine concluded.

Opposition

Opposition to the truck measure was voiced by Miles Johnston, Lincoln attorney representing the Lincoln-Lancaster Safety Council; Max Denney, city attorney at Fairbury; Fred Marquardt, Avoca grain dealer, and H. G. Wellensiek of Grand Island.

Wellensiek told the committee that increasing the length of the trucks would "increase the hazard 20 per cent or more." He said trucks "don't pay their share of the taxes" and their costs keep decreasing.

Wellensiek is a former state senator, having served in both the two-house legislature and Unicameral.

The other provisions Sen. Lautenschlager said the truckers wanted in the bill were to include a 13½-foot maximum height and increase the gross weight maximum of the trucks.

Retired Teacher Clara Norton Dies

Clara Leone Norton of 2544 O, a retired teacher in the Lincoln public schools, died Friday night.

Funeral will be 3:30 p.m. Monday at Wadlows Chapel. Cremation will be in Omaha and burial at Blair.

Born at Blair, she taught school at Thermopolis, Wyo., before moving to Lincoln in 1918 and accepting a position with the Lincoln public schools.

She was a member of the Second Presbyterian Church and East Lincoln Chapter, OES.

Survivors are sister, Mrs. Edith Morrissy of Lincoln; nephew, H. N. Tyler of Lincoln; nieces, Mrs. W. F. Hertel of Sacramento, Calif., and Mrs. L. E. Hemson of Brainerd, Minn.

MAN FALLS 3 STORIES IN PLANT

Glenn Hoyt, 46, 6829 Burlington, suffered what appeared to be serious injuries Friday afternoon in a three-story fall at the Nebraska Public Power System headquarters, 425 So. 9th.

Police said he suffered a severe fracture of the left elbow, possible fracture of both hips and head cuts when he fell through an opening in the third floor all the way to the basement. The opening, police said, was used to hoist equipment through.

Hoyt, a fireman with NPPS, was working near the opening and talking with another employee when he accidentally stepped through the opening, police added. He was listed in fairly good condition at a local hospital.

FAIR, WARMER TO CONTINUE

Generally fair and sunny weather was to continue over the weekend and temperatures were to be warmer Saturday, according to Weather Bureau predictions.

Saturday's highs were to be in the 40's, similar to Friday's highs ranging from 36 at Norfolk to 48 at Imperial. Extended five-day forecasts indicated highs of 32 to 36 and little if any precipitation. Lincoln's high was 41 Friday.

Over the nation New York state continued to bear the brunt of the cold and from seven to 12 inches of snow fell in western New York.

As the cold front moved southward, temperature fell to the teens as far south as North Carolina, and brisk northwest winds held readings in the cold 40s and 50 in southern Florida.

South Platte Men Asked For Answer

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

State Engineer L. N. Ress said Friday he has asked the South Platte United Chambers of Commerce (SPUCC) to clarify records in his office about exactly what route the group proposes for Nebraska's western leg of the interstate highway.

In a letter to Roy Lenwell, SPUCC president, Ress stated he had received two resolutions from the SPUCC stating that organization favors locating the interstate highway "south of the Platte River following more or less a water level route."

The state engineer said SPUCC's first resolution, dated Sept. 13, 1956, was brought to his office by State Sens. Kathleen Foote of Axtell, and Don Thompson of McCook. Ress told Lenwell the senators also brought a map showing location of the highway "running generally westerly from Doniphan to, or near, Elwood, Moorefield, Wellfleet, Grant and Grant. At Grant the route divides with one fork running toward Cheyenne, Wyoming, and other to Denver, Colorado."

In the letter to Lenwell, Ress states, "I am certain that you would agree the route proposed on the map submitted to me... could not conceivably be interpreted as following a more or less water level route."

It was further stated in Ress' letter that Mark Bell of McCook had called on the state engineer this week and informed him the map submitted by Sens. Foote and Thompson did not represent the proposal of the SPUCC.

Ress said the second resolution submitted to him from the SPUCC, dated Jan. 10, 1957, restates its favoring location of the interstate south of the Platte River following a more or less water level route.

City, County Consolidation Bill Readied

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Legislation is being drafted to permit consolidation under either the city or county government any present activities of the two subdivisions.

Attorney Robert Guenzel said he has presented an outline of the proposed legislation to Sen. Otto Liebers who in turn has asked the Legislature's bill drafter to prepare the act.

Guenzel said he was acting "in behalf of a group of interested citizens."

The proposed legislation is different from the so-called Jeary Act on consolidation in that it permits combining of any or all city and county functions and permits either subdivision to assume activities of the other.

The old Jeary Act concerned only the combining of city and county tax assessing and collecting divisions. It also permitted consolidation under the county only, not the city.

Reports of the Guenzel proposal prompted the Lincoln City Council to decline at this time to join with the county in introduction of an amendment to the Leary Act.

"It would look silly," said Mayor Bennett Marton, "for Lincoln to ask for one bill while another and broader bill on the same subject is to be sponsored by another group."

County Board Chairman Del Lienemann, who has pushed for amendment of the Leary Act, said his line of action was now uncertain until he learned the details of the new proposal.

Lienemann had asked that the City Council give him an answer by Monday on its intentions of joining or not joining with the county in support of the Jeary Act amendment.

Lienemann apparently intended to have the county go alone to the Legislature with a Jeary Act amendment if the city refused to join in the move. He has asked the county attorney's office to prepare the proposed amendment.

According to Guenzel, the proposed legislation will closely resemble a section of Lincoln's proposed new city charter.

This section permits the city to join with other subdivision to contract for joint performance of services or operation of facilities. The section was specifically placed in the charter to facilitate such things as the proposed city and county consolidation.

'Bank' Funds Halved

Heavy Early Sign-Up Seen

By RICHARD FELLMAN
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska Soil Bank officials received word from Washington that funds for the 1956 corn acreage reserve would be slightly less than half of those available in 1956.

The telegram, similar messages being sent to officials across the nation, also warned administrators to expect a heavy early sign-up.

The wire said that particularly in the cotton belt the acreage reserve has "sufficient attractiveness so initial county allocations could be exhausted shortly after the initial sign-up period."

The Department urged State Committees to "impress county committees that sign-up will be on a first come, first served basis."

In Nebraska, which will have a drop in available money to $16,614,000 from the over $32 million used last year, administrators were concerned about the decrease and the possibility that unless a farmer wishing to enter the Soil Bank signs up soon after the opening date—yet to be set—there might not be enough money.

According to Wilfred Nelson of Sidney, chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, signing up will start sometime between Feb. 10 and Feb. 15, the exact date to be set at a State ASC meeting Wednesday.

With the lower limit of total funds, due to use of Soil Bank money in the entire farm area of the nation as opposed to those areas which last year could fit the program into planting preparations, money set aside for corn is not "unlimited" as it was last year, officials explained.

To meet the present $16 million plus and stay within it, current regulations place a maximum any farmer can place in the acreage reserve at 20 acres or 30 per cent of his total allotment, whichever is greatest, as opposed to last year's program allowing 50 acres or 50 per cent of the allotment.

Explaining the program, ASC Director Robert Webb cautioned farmers interested in the soil bank to sign up early and not wait for the deadline, which he said has "definitely been set for March 8."

The early-bird will have his money earmarked, no matter what changes may later take place," Webb said.

$500 Taken From Dresser Drawer

Some $500 in cash was taken from a canvas sack in a dresser drawer at her home, Mrs. Richard Prochnow of 341 D reported to police Friday.

The money was in the form of five, ten and twenty dollar bills, Mrs. Prochnow said, except for three dollars in change. Entrance was gained, she said, through an unlocked front door.

Ike Orders Top Missile Output

Space Rockets Get Priority Over All Defense Projects

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower Friday ordered top production priority for the atomic intercontinental and intermediate range missiles which he regards as the nation's best safeguards against attack.

By direction of the chief executive the Commerce Department gave the space rockets precedence over all other defense and civilian programs.

The priority order applies to purchase of materials by contractors and all others engaged in production, research and development of the weapons to which Mr. Eisenhower referred in his budget message as "the most effective deterrent to an attack on the free nations."

Government officials said the action assures a sharply accelerated production rate.

Mr. Eisenhower has asked Congress to back a four and one-half billion dollar missile program, including two billion dollars to be spent in the fiscal year beginning July 1, and authority to contract for an additional two and one-half billion dollars.

With one and one-half billion dollars being spent on missiles in the present fiscal year, the program for the immediate future now totals six billion dollars.

The priority decree came only four days after the U.S. presented to the United Nations a disarmament plan which would clamp international controls on missiles and on future stockpiles of nuclear weapons.

The President has emphasized, however, that the U.S. never will agree to global controls until "a sound and safeguarded agreement" for an "open skies" inspection formula has been achieved.

Russia is standing pat on its proposal that aerial inspection be limited to a zone extending 500 miles on each side of the Iron Curtain.

The Air Force earlier this week announced award of more than half a billion dollars in missiles contracts, including $38,000,000 to the continental rocket, the "Titan."

VIC ARRIVES IN CAPITOL, WORKS ON DROUGHT PLAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Victor Anderson of Nebraska flew into Washington Friday for President Eisenhower's inaugural and soon was discussing the drought problem with Sens. Hruska and Curtis and Rep. Weaver, Nebraska Republicans.

Arriving in a National Guard plane, Anderson set up headquarters in the Mayflower Hotel and then got down to business devising a special drought program for Nebraska.

Anderson said Eisenhower's program for aid to the long-stricken states is good "but we need a different program for Nebraska." He noted that plans now call for aid largely to cattle raising states.

The governor said that Nebraska did not call for help when drought first struck the state two years ago and didn't ask much last year. But if the drought continues into this third year, he said, Nebraska is going to need real help.

Hog Aid Needed Anderson said the government should make federally owned corn available to hog farmers at a "reasonable rate" in Nebraska as it is doing for the cattle raising states. The governor plans early Saturday to meet the 99-piece Sidney (Neb.) High School band, which will play in the inaugural parade. He will attend a conference and luncheon arranged for Republican governors by Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, a Nebraskan from Lincoln, which will be attended by Vice President Nixon.

Anderson will be the guest of honor Saturday afternoon at a hotel reception given by the Nebraska State Society of Washington and then will attend a Young Republicans' inauguration reception.

Anderson will sit with other governors Monday at the east front of the Capitol to see President Eisenhower inaugurated for a second term. Then Anderson will ride in the inauguration parade, ahead of the Sidney High School band. That night he will attend one of the inauguration balls — at the National Guard Armory.

Russia, Red China Promise To Protect Mideast

Condemn Policy Of America

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union and Communist China Friday night jointly condemned President Eisenhower's Middle East policy. They pledged the peoples of that area "any necessary support" to avert aggression and interference in their affairs.

Premier Chou En-lai of Red China and Soviet Premier Bulganin set forth their views in a 2,000-word communique signed by them at the conclusion of Chou's visit in Moscow.

In reference to the Eisenhower plan for military and economic aid to the Middle East to meet any Communist aggression, the communique said:

U.S. Criticized

"The governments of the Soviet Union and the Chinese People's Republic resolutely condemn this policy of the United States.

"They are prepared to continue to give any necessary support to the peoples of the Near and Middle East in order to avert aggression and interference in the affairs of the countries of that region."

By the phrase Near and Middle East the Russians mean to distinguish between Arab states and the non-Arab area, placing Afghanistan and Iran in the category of Middle East and the Arab states in the Near East.

The two powers demanded full indemnification to Egypt by Britain, France and Israel stemming from the invasion of Egypt in October and November. This a reiteration of previous Soviet views supporting Egyptian claims for damage to cities from bombardment and loss of military equipment.

Talk Of 'Intrigues'

The statement expressed opposition to "any intrigues by the imperialists to place the Suez Canal under international control."

Chou returned to Moscow Thursday from visits to Hungary and Poland. He left Friday night for Tashkent en route to Kabul, capital of Afghanistan.

Jayne Mansfield Will Inherit Her Grandad's Estate

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—Screen actress Jayne Mansfield was named principal beneficiary in her grandfather's will, which was admitted to probate here Friday.

Elmer E. Palmer, her paternal grandfather died Jan. 2 at his home in nearby Pen Argyl, Pa. He was 89.

After setting aside $1,000 for maintenance of chimneys at the Zion Methodist church of Pen Argyl, the will specified that Palmer's home be held in trust for Miss Mansfield, becoming her property when she becomes 25. The remainder of the estate would be held in trust until she is 30. She is now 24.

Value of the estate was listed at $30,000 in real estate and upwards of $25,000 in personal property. With the death of Palmer, Miss Mansfield also falls heir to the bulk of a $36,340 estate left in trust by Palmer's wife in 1945.

Miss Mansfield once attended high school in Pen Argyl. She was known then as Vera Jane Palmer. Her father, Herbert, a Phillipsburg, N.J., attorney, died in 1936.

Court Denies Rehearing To Convicted Slayer

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa Supreme Court Friday denied a rehearing for Ernest Triplett, 52, itinerant salesman, whose second-degree murder conviction and life sentence was upheld by the high court last Nov. 13.

Triplett was convicted of the Aug. 31, 1954 kidnap-slaying of Jimmy Bremmer, 8, Sioux City.

NWU History Professor, 39, Receives First Woods Award

Dr. David H. Mickey, a 39-year-old history professor, is the first winner of a $1,000 Woods Award for Distinguished Teaching at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Chancellor A. Leland Forrest presented the award at a program marking the 70th anniversary of founding of the school. Dr. Earle Wiltse, Grand Island school superintendent, was speaker.

Dr. Mickey, a 1939 Wesleyan graduate who has taught there since 1951, is professor of history and chairman of the social science division. He holds an M.A. and Ph.D. from the University of Nebraska and has studied at Harvard.

Before 1951 he had been a teacher at Peru State Teachers College and at Garden County High School in Oshkosh, Neb.

First of Five

The award was the first of five annual awards for teachers chosen by Wesleyan seniors and administrators. The cash award comes from the Woods Charitable Fund, Inc., of Lincoln.

Dr. Wiltse, in his Founders Day address, called for "some national plan of scholarships" to solve the problem of financing college education for students and proposed a sales tax, income tax or both to get new education money.

"We are wasting human resources as shockingly as we once wasted our natural resources," he said. "Last year 100,000 high school graduates eminently prepared to go to college could not go because of lack of financial ability."

Distinguished Citizens

Wesleyan, as part of its Founders Day activities, conferred Distinguished Citizen citations on Morris E. Jacobs, president of an Omaha advertising firm, and the Rev. James S. Chubb, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church in Grand Island.

Jacobs, former chairman of the State Board of Education, is a member of both the Creighton University and Omaha University boards of regents.

The Rev. Mr. Chubb, pastor at Grand Island since 1948, has been particularly active in counseling, personal religion and social problems.

Historical Society, Museum Bills Held For Amendment

The Legislature's Government Committee Friday held for amendment two bills which provide for the establishment of museums and historical societies on city and county levels. They are expected to be combined into one bill.

One measure, LB 9, would provide for a one-tenth mill levy to support non-profit county historical societies or associations if approved by voters in a county election.

The other bill, LB 108, would provide for the establishment of museums in any city, village, county or township and call for a levy of four-tenths of a mill for such purposes if approved by the voters.

James E. Lawrence, editor of The Lincoln Star and past president and member of the executive board of the State Historical Society, said something should be done to assist local organizations in forming historical societies because "history doesn't wait."

Lawrence said historical exhibits should be collected now "because it demands that you do it now. It's either done now or imperfectly later."

'Fill A Hole'

Dick Herman of Sidney, president of the Cheyenne County Historical Society, said LB 9 would "fill a hole in our laws relating to cultural and historical work" on local levels.

He added that the one-tenth mill would not be excessive and would provide his county with $5,000 for a historical society.

Others appearing in favor of the two bills were: Dr. W. D. Aeschbacher, director of the State Historical Society; C. B. Shultz, director of the State Museum, and L. K. Cramb of Fairbury.

Burton Nelson of Hastings, a representative of the Hastings "House of Yesterday," said he neither favored nor opposed the bills but stated there would be no competition between museums on city and county levels.

Introducers of LB 9 are State Sens. A. A. Fenske of Sunol, D. J. Cole of Merriman and John Aufenkamp of Julian. LB 108 was introduced by Sens. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth and Kathleen Foote of Axtell.

Senators Explain Sales Tax Bill To 'Favorable' Crowd

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—State Sens. J. Monroe Bixler and Donald F. McGinley said they felt "much encouraged" after an open forum Friday night that attracted a good sized crowd of businessmen and farmers to hear the senators explain their two per cent sales tax bill.

Bixler and McGinley told the crowd that if their compilations were right and they said they had every right to believe they were, the tax, if passed, would replace about 25 per cent of the present property tax on the average over the state.

The senators indicated they picked Sidney for the meeting because the community is a "border town" close to Colorado which has a sales tax.

The majority present seemed by applause and by questioning to be favorable toward the tax.

Senators Run Into Silence

Union Officials Won't Answer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators investigating alleged labor racketeering ran into a wall of silence Friday when they tried to question officials of the huge teamsters' union.

One of the witnesses, Elnor O. Mohn, executive vice president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, challenged the jurisdiction of the Senate Investigations subcommittee and contended it didn't have "proper authority" to make the probe.

His stand brought a storm of protest and condemnation from subcommittee members.

Might Incriminate

Another witness who refused to testify Friday was Dominick Santa Maria, a vice president of teamsters Local 234 in New York. Santa Maria pleaded his answers "might incriminate" him. Among other things, he declined to say whether he ever gave an "honest" financial report to members of another union in which he formerly served as custodian of funds.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), subcommittee chairman, said Dave Beck, general president of the teamsters union, had promised to show up at the hearing but had not done so.

He said Beck had sent a telegram from Seattle saying that "in compliance with my doctor's instructions I am unable to accept the invitation to appear."

Reiss Refuses

Among the witnesses who refused to talk was Harry Reiss, president of Local 227 of the Allied Industrial Workers of America in New York and secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 284 there.

Like Mohn, Reiss declined to testify on the ground the subcommittee lacked jurisdiction and had no right to compel him to speak. He said the subcommittee is a unit of the Senate Committee on Government Operations and the "internal affairs" of labor unions do not fall within its jurisdiction.

There were indications the senators would seek a court test of the question by bringing a contempt action against Reiss.

Judge Rules Negro Co-Ed Ouster Legal

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A federal judge Friday ruled that University of Alabama trustees were justified in expelling Autherine Lucy Foster, the school's first Negro student.

U. S. District Judge H. Hobart Grooms held that the woman's charges that university authorities conspired in rioting which drove her from the campus at Tuscaloosa are "baseless and without foundation in fact."

He dismissed contempt proceedings brought against the board of trustees by Mrs. Foster's attorneys and ordered her taxed with court costs.

Hill Ferguson Birmingham, chairman pro-tem of the board, said in a statement, "I am highly pleased with the decision of the court."

Atty. Arthur D. Shores, who represented Mrs. Foster, said he would study the decision before announcing whether the case will be appealed.

The ruling by Grooms, the judge who ordered the university to drop its racial barriers, was the sharp rebuff suffered in Mrs. Foster's 4½ year court battle for admission to the university.

It does not close the school to other qualified Negro applicants, however.

Safety Reasons

The university fought Grooms' July 1, 1955, ruling to the U. S. Supreme Court, and after losing there permitted Mrs. Foster to enroll last Feb. 1.

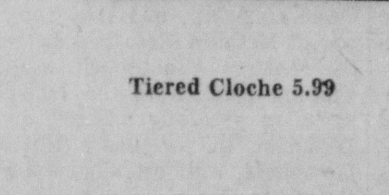

She was suspended for safety reasons when a mob drove her from the campus Feb. 6. Another order from Grooms Feb. 29 required the school to readmit her March 5, but she was expelled a few hours later.

"While the equal protection provision forbids racial discrimination," said Grooms in a written decision, "it does not grant immunity from equal application of the laws because of race. If I correctly read the Supreme Court decisions constraining the equal protection provisions, and especially the more recent decisions, that provision does not warp the color line—it erases it."

"The evidence offered upon this hearing," said Grooms, "establishes the fact that the charges and statements above referred to are baseless and without foundation in fact."

Interest Boost Is Pondered

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury is considering proposals that it increase the interest rate on U.S. savings bonds.

The decision is described as a difficult one, and it is indefinite when it will be made, one way or the other.

A change would require action by Congress, where some of the strongest demands for an interest boost have originated.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told reporters this week that "we will have a permanent and definite statement before long," but government sources said opinion still is divided within his department.

3½ Per Cent

Some experts hold that the rate, now 3 per cent on the familiar "series E" bonds if they are held for 10 years or longer, should be raised to 3½ per cent or possibly more. Others have urged Humphrey to stand pat.

Meantime sales of the E bonds have fallen off, apparently because the general rise in interest rates has made other investments more attractive.

The pressure heightened in late 1956 when a substantial number of banks posted a 3 per cent rate on savings deposits—on which the full rate can be collected without waiting for 10 years.

Throughout most of 1956, E bonds were being cashed in at a faster rate than new ones were being sold. Redemptions exceeded sales by 547 million dollars, it was disclosed Friday, or about 13 per cent.

HOSPITAL NEEDS ARE DISCUSSED

Budget needs of the Lincoln State Hospital were discussed at a public meeting of Recovery Unlimited Friday evening.

Dr. F. L. Spradling, superintendent of the State Hospital, told the group of personnel needs of the hospital and outlined a program of new building to be completed in the next two years.

Explaining the needs of the mentally ill, Dr. Spradling said, "We are all mentally ill at times, so no one has a right to look on others with a supercilious eye. We all fall heir to the stresses and strains of life."

Discussing the new tuberculosis unit for the hospital, the superintendent explained that segregation of patients reduces the number of tubercular patients by 50 per cent.

Security Building

He also told the group about the new security building to be completed by January, 1958. It will house penal inmates who are in need of mental help.

Explaining the personnel problems faced by the hospital, he said that on the present staff of doctors, three are over 80, two over 70, and only one is under 50. "We have 20 some nurses, but we need three times that number," he said.

A "split" hearing was held Friday in the Legislature's Public Works Committee on a bill which provides that Nebraska contractors should be given preference over outsiders on contracts let by the state or other political subdivisions.

The measure, LB 48, introduced by Sens. A. A. Fenske of Sunol and John Munnely of Omaha, provides that a contract requiring no advertising of bids automatically would go to Nebraskans. On contracts requiring advertising for bids, a Nebraska bid would be accepted if it were not more than five per cent higher than the low non-resident bid.

The hearing will be continued next Friday since a misunderstanding over which Friday the bill would be heard caused considerable confusion among those who wished to appear.

State Engineer L. N. Ress opposed the bill, pointing out that where federal aid funds are involved, federal money is available only to the extent of the low bid, without regard to whether it comes from a Nebraskan or a non-resident.

Cites Example

Citing a possible example, Ress said if a non-resident should bid three million dollars on a federal aid road project and a Nebraskan should bid $3,140,000, the Nebraskan bid would have to be accepted and the state would have to pay the $140,000 difference.

Col. Hobb R. Turner, assistant adjutant general, said five of Nebraska's new National Guard armories were built by out-of-state contractors whose bids were lower than those of Nebraskans by a total of $25,845. The state would have had to pay the difference under this law, Turner said. He also pointed out that 10 more armories remain to be built.

Dean Kratz of Omaha, representing the Nebraska Building Chapter, Associated General Contractors, said his organization sponsored the bill which was designed to alleviate western Nebraska contractors "who are hurt as a result of preference clauses in Colorado, Wyoming and South Dakota."

Could Amend

Explaining that his group was interested only in commercial building, Kratz said he thought they would agree to amending the bill to exempt any project involving federal funds.

The Omaha attorney told the committee that 31 states have some kind of preference clause and that 10 of these are on a percentage basis.

Appearing in opposition to the bill: David Osterhout of Crete, a member of the legislative committee of the State School Boards Assn. who said he was speaking, however, for himself; Lincoln attorney Lloyd Chapman, representing the League of Nebraska Municipalities; Richard Wilson of Lincoln, attorney representing the Consumers Public Power District, and James Critchfield of Lincoln, representing the Nebraska Highway Heavy Contractors Chapter, Associated General Contractors.

Lake McConaughy Water Storage Mark Going Up

An increase of 162,600 acre feet of water stored in Lake McConaughy since the low point last October was reported by the Central Nebraska Irrigation District Friday.

The low in October was 383,000 acre feet.

The recent inflow "is somewhat better than a year ago," it was reported, despite the fact that the water level is at its lowest January point since 1912. A total of 545,600 acre feet were in storage on Jan. 10.

The water level indicates irrigation farmers served by the reservoir "will be all right this summer" but lack of moisture above the valley now "could make things serious by June or July of 1958," Dan Joes, chief of the State Irrigation Bureau, said Friday.

Irrigation farmers in Gosper, Phelps and Kearney Counties are served by the water held in Lake McConaughy of the Kingsley Dam. Farmers in Lincoln, Buffalo and Dawson Counties also receive supplemental water from the dam.

State Chamber Managers Officers

Ralph Powell Heads State Chamber Managers Group

Ralph Powell, Grand Island Chamber of Commerce manager, was elected president of the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce Managers Association, Friday, succeeding Larry Owen of Columbus. Other officers elected by board members were Cliff Peake of North Platte, vice president, and Paul Harm, Alliance, secretary-treasurer.

Board members chosen earlier are Dick Good and James Parmelee, both of Omaha.

The Chamber executives heard Jerry Pratt of Minneapolis, Minn., manager of the northwestern division of the U.S. Chamber, outline "basic essentials" of a good chamber manager.

Leadership

Pratt emphasized the need for leadership ability of the non-directive type, commenting that the "dominant ward boss type of leadership is a thing of the past."

He cautioned Nebraska managers not to allow their offices "to become the dumping ground for all the city drives and charities," and to "remember that executive duties suffer from a pile of outside work thrust upon a manager."

The 45 Chamber executives will hear Hugo Srb, secretary of the State Legislature, discuss "Major Issues Before the Unicameral" Saturday morning. Dick Bailey of Sioux Falls, S. D., will also speak on "United States Chamber of Commerce Aids." Bailey is a district manager in the northwestern division of the U.S. Chamber.

State Engineer L. N. Ress said Friday a construction program totaling $11,300,000 on the Omaha-Lincoln section of the interstate highway will be contracted in 1957.

The 1957 program will include Omaha to the Gretna fish hatchery corner, and will require $2,600,000 in state funds.

Ress said the state has two million dollars, but added some "stretching" will enable the department to reach the entire figure.

The state engineer said he hopes to undertake an additional $20,000,000 construction project on the super-highway in 1958. He stated that part of the program will require only two million dollars in state funds because the new interstate matching ratio calls for one state dollar for every nine dollars in federal money.

Projects

Interstate highway projects for 1957 include:

—Construction of the Gretna fish hatchery interchange and 6.2 miles of the highway east from that point.

—From that point east 3.8 miles including interchanges with State Highways 370 and 50, but excluding a viaduct over Burlington Railroad tracks, a bridge over Pappio Creek and a county road. These will constitute a separate project totaling four-tenths of one mile.

—Another 0.4 of a mile crossing the Union Pacific tracks, another bridge over a different branch of Pappio Creek, and another county road.

—Another stretch 1.5 miles long including the 114th and L street interchange in Omaha.

Ress said these projects will "utilize funds previously allotted to the interstate highway and anything in the future will be on a 90-10 basis."

May is the target date for letting of initial contracts on the projects, Ress said.

9,534 GET FREE POLIO SHOTS HERE

City-County Health Department Director James T. Googe announced Friday that 9,534 persons received free polio shots at the department during the two-week accelerated program designed for county school children.

The program ended Friday with 781 persons receiving shots. Dr. Googe said the total vaccinated during the program included 7,473 city public school 1,177 parochial and 447 rural students. Seventy-four pregnant women and 363 preschool youths who came in with rural school district delegations also received shots.

Dr. Googe said the program went as smoothly as any of its size that he has ever worked with. He praised the help of volunteers, which included doctors, nurses and parent-teacher groups. Without their help, he said, the program would not have been possible.

Continue Shots

Free polio shots will continue to be given indefinitely at the department, 935 R, on Thursdays and Saturdays, Dr. Googe said. Until the backlog of pre-school youths is taken care of, he added, shots will be given from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each Thursday. Innoculation hours on Saturday will be from 8 to 11 a.m. A group from Lincoln's University High School will receive shots next Thursday.

Dr. Googe, who earlier had predicted more than 10,000 persons would receive free shots, upped his estimate to 12,000 Friday.

Any county pregnant woman or child from 1 to 19 years of age is eligible to receive free shots.

Wiltse Is On The Beam

Dr. Earle W. Wiltse, superintendent of schools at Grand Island, indicated an important door through which much of the nation's need for educated youth can be relieved. The door is a national scholarship program.

"We are wasting our human resources as shockingly as we once wasted our natural resources," Dr. Wiltse told a Wesleyan University Founders Day gathering.

According to Dr. Wiltse there were 100,000 high school graduates last year eminently qualified for higher education who will never get any of it because they cannot afford it.

It does seem that in all of this national concern over our educational shortcomings too much emphasis is being given to school expansion and little if any to the reason for the whole institution of education—the student. We daresay that Dr. Wiltse placed his finger on the point of greatest importance—get the maximum of the highest qualified youth into higher education and a great deal of the educational problem will move toward easy and rapid solution.

School plant expansion is nice to look at, but unconvincing so long as there are 100,000 highly eligible, potential students annually locked out for lack of means. Whatever may be the teacher shortage, that, too, will be self-alleviating if potential teachers can go to college in greater number. It all seems to go back to students and when it gets there it boils down to a question of finances. And for those bright young people who haven't the wherewithal a scholarship program is the practical remedy.

Tribute To Norris

A selection of the five greatest senators of all time, present senators excepted, will be made by a special Senate committee—Kennedy, Massachusetts; Mansfield, Montana; Bricker, Ohio; Bridges, New Hampshire; and Russell, Georgia.

At this stage it appears that Webster, Clay and Calhoun are established in three of the five spots.

Who will be the other two? Roscoe Fleming, veteran Washington newsman, writing for the Denver Post, pays tribute to Nebraska's former Senator George Norris as one richly entitled to the honor. In Fleming's opinion the Nebraskan is the one clear choice, conceivably even for the highest honor as greatest of all.

In a striking tribute he wrote: "His (Norris') name is written larger on legislation and the present framework of our society than that of any other senator in history. "Senator Norris was always the same all the way through, not venerated, and his substance was solid oak. "We reporters used to go to his office for press conferences which were more like round-table gabfests and he would sit with his feet on his desk and talk just as he did in the Senate. He had no secrets, no reservations and no subtleties; his only judgment of a course was whether he thought it good for the whole people of the U.S.

"It was he who hung on like grim death to the great public works at Muscle Shoals when Coolidge and Hoover were trying to give them away in an earlier version of the 'partnership' policy, and who was responsible more than any other for TVA.

"Likewise for REA which lighted the farm homes of the nation and lightened the labors of millions of farmers, their wives and families. He sponsored and drove through the anti-lame duck constitutional amendment. Outside Congress he was the father of the Nebraska unicameral legislature.

"He had the courage to follow his convictions wherever they led."

For Sake Of Partisanship

The late Sen. George W. Norris never had any strong conviction on the size of the membership of the Nebraska unicameral, which he fathered and which the people of Nebraska adopted largely as a result of his efforts.

He felt that it would be better if membership

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Gov. Anderson's budget is now in the hands of the Nebraska Unicameral Legislature. . . . There will be ample opportunity for full, thorough discussion. . . . It is not a comfortable seat which the governor occupies. . . . Throughout most of the 40's and the first half of the 50's the people of Nebraska were enjoying a measure of prosperity which made it possible for most of them to meet their tax bills. . . . Now, with two consecutive summers of drought, that situation has changed.

★ Sooner or later the governor and the legislature will have to come to grips with a relative newcomer to the mounting costs of education in Nebraska. . . . That is the added hundreds of thousands or the millions which we are told will be needed to support a modern, outstanding medical center built around the Medical College of the University of Nebraska. The time will come when either that mounting cost will be re-examined and re-evaluated or the other colleges and schools embraced within the university may suffer because of the necessity of cutting appropriations for them. . . . We have no quarrel with the medical center at Omaha. . . . It received the blessing of the Nebraska Unicameral, unbelievably, without the asking of a single question relating to the cost, without anyone volunteering any information as to what could be expected, say, in five or 10 years. . . . Now, the University of Iowa at Iowa City has a modern, outstanding medical center—a medical center for which one of America's better known foundations contributed in a single lump sum $4 million for the construction of buildings and unless we are misinformed there have been substantial donations to the same medical center by foundations since.

★ Now, here we are, undertaking to provide the physical facilities, expand the staff, see to it that our medical center is equipped—which means a whole lot of expense—and finally that salaries are provided in keeping with the requirements to attract outstanding scientists qualified fully to provide the best of medical education. We say this not by way of criticism but we do suggest that in the mounting demands made upon the people of Nebraska, one of the requirements suggests that we go back over the field to examine and to re-examine what we are doing.

★ The legislature has been in session since the opening hours of January. Something which it seems to us needs to be said, something for which we have waited eagerly is still unsaid by the governor, by any state official or by any member of the legislature. The steps which contributed so greatly to Nebraska's comeback in the late 30's and the 40's will not be available to us in event of a continuing drought. There was a widespread program of public works. This editor served as a member of a board of three to screen and to study those developments. In the aggregate they involved the expenditure of many millions of dollars. But the huge comprehensive Tri-County program is complete. You do not build it a second time. It helped Nebraska get back on its feet and it is continuing to help Nebraska, thanks to irrigation. Step by step we beat back through those years until the day dawned in Nebraska that the state itself had captured all the lost ground and was stronger and better than ever before.

★ What has any of this to do with Vic Anderson's budget? Simply this. We should spend for that which will strengthen Nebraska, improve it, and help it gain greater vigor. But there comes a time, we assume, in the life of a state, when far-sighted leadership suggests appraisal and reappraisal. That is the light in which the governor's budget should be studied.

House Jockeys On School Aid

WASHINGTON — Few voters realize how one vote on a congressional committee can mean schoolhouses or lack of schoolhouses for their children next year.

A backstage drama illustrating this took place the other day in the House of Representatives.

Fifteen House Democrats, belonging to the committee on committees, met behind closed doors to assign new congressmen to their committees. One important vacancy was open on the education and labor committee which last year hamstringed school construction.

Southern solons, who fear federal aid for schools will be tied to integration, hunted for a fellow Southerner to fill the vacancy. They finally proposed ex-Sen. Alton Lennon, now a congressman from North Carolina, a strong segregationist. Lennon personally preferred to serve on the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee but, largely because of his strong racial views, he was drafted for the Education and Labor Committee.

This gave the conservative Republican-Southern Democratic coalition another vote to help block school aid.

The Lennon appointment stood overnight. Then Minnesota's vigorous congressman Eugene McCarthy, Democrat, (no relation to Joe), mentally counted votes and discovered the Northerners outnumbered the Southerners eight to seven on the committee on committees which decides who shall sit on what committee.

The next day, McCarthy suggested a reshuffle.

"It seems to me," he said sweetly, without referring to schools or segregation, "that Representative Lennon should be given a chance to go on the committee of his choice. The Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee."

His solicitude for Lennon was backed by eight northern votes, opposed by seven southern votes. As a result, Southerner Lennon was shifted to the committee of his choice, new Congressman George McGovern of South Dakota was assigned to the key Labor Committee post.

★ ★ ★ Senator McCarthy is still trying to investigate Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, who precipitated the sensational Army-McCarthy hearings by refusing to kowtow to Joe. Now that Zwicker is up for promotion to two stars, Joe has written to armed services Chairman Dick Russell (D., Ga.) demanding an investigation. . . . Congressman Keith Thomson (R., Wyo.) is so unpopular with his staff that every last one walked out on him. . . . Sen. George Smathers (D., Fla.), chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, has promised Ken Holum a job that will keep him in the limelight to run against Sen. Karl Mundt (R., S. D.) in 1960. Holum almost upset Sen. Francis Case in last year's scrappy South Dakota Senate race. . . . Congressman Dan Flood (D., Pa.) has written a private letter to House Foreign Affairs Chairman Thomas Gordon warning that it would take 30 days for the Air Force to fly one combat division to the Middle East. Wrote Flood: "If the Middle East resolution before your committee is going to be effective as a deterrent to Communist aggression, we must be able to transport our troops from this country to the trouble spot in 24 hours instead of 30 days."

Taking Liberty With A Well-Known Name

Bedloe's Island is still Bedloe's Island. The United States Senate wanted to rename it Liberty Island. Liberty Island would have been a good enough name for the place, as far as that goes, considering that the Statue of Liberty stands there. There is no real objection to Liberty as a name. A lot of very fine hamburger joints, cleaning establishments, drive-in theatres and such have found it quite serviceable. It's a good old American word, and I'm quite fond of it.

The thing is, though, that when a fellow gets a 'toehold in history—even such a bare toehold as old Isaac Bedloe managed—it doesn't seem fair for some big bully to come along and pry him loose.

★ ★ ★ Poor old Isaac gets a rough enough deal as it is. Four famous encyclopedias, two dictionaries and half a dozen other reference works of impeccable character studiously ignore him. And when you finally come across a trace of Isaac, first name and all, it just casually mentions that he was the first white owner of the island.

Somewhere, in some musty archives, there is undoubtedly more about Isaac. But who wants to get musty in archives? The fact is, Isaac just isn't done right by in the standard, everyday reference works.

Bedloe's Island, they say, is an island in New York harbor which was ceded to the United States in 1880. In 1841 Fort Wood was erected there, manned with 77 guns. Later on the French sculptor came along and thought it would be a wonderful site for his statue, "Liberty Enlightening the World." America agreed, and France made the United States a gift of the statue, and Bartholdi had his way. The gracious lady took up her abode on Bedloe's Island.

All of that you can find out from the books. But who was Bedloe? They keep a grim-lipped silence on the subject. You'd think they were ashamed of the old man. Yet there he has been, all these years, enshrined in the hearts of his countrymen. His name has been on millions of lips. It was only his last name, to be sure, but it was there. How many of us can hope for as much in history?

★ ★ ★ This isn't the first time someone has picked on old man Bedloe. Not content with ignoring old Isaac completely, at least one of the reference books say that Bedloe's Island is "now Liberty Island." It ain't no such thing. It's Bedloe's Island, and that is the way it is on all the maps and charts. Which is a lucky thing for old Isaac, because it was partly the U. S. Budget Bureau's objection to changing all the maps that caused the House Interior Committee to shelve the Senate-approved bill to take his place in glory away from Isaac.

Hall Sees South Good GOP Hunting

WASHINGTON — The Republicans are headed toward the realm of political paradox and sectional tension in which the Democratic party has lived long and uneasily.

In a parting message to Republican women, National Chairman Leonard W. Hall declared that "the real hunting ground of the Republican party is in the South." He drew this conclusion from recent elections which showed the GOP slipping badly in its old mid-west heartland but carrying southern states for the national ticket. Though Hall retires next week, he has had a hand in choosing his successor. He also looks ahead to a loud voice in party affairs in 1960 by way of the GOP nomination and election for governor of New York next year.

His "Look Away, Dixieland" sentiments coincide with renewed demands from Negro leaders, especially ministers, that President Eisenhower visit the South and spread oil on the troubled segregation waters there. Each day brings new accounts of violence and tension on the segregation front.

★ ★ ★ Hall's headquarters says, however, that no Republican leaders in the South have joined in demands for the President's presence. Those who advise the party here in such matters say they would not, as of now, favor such a visit.

They are confident that the new Congress will pass the administration's civil rights program with majority Republican support. They expect both the President and his party to get the credit. This, in their view, will be sufficient action for the many Negro voters who have switched to Mr. Eisenhower, both North and South, after years of loyalty to Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman.

★ ★ ★ It is certainly true that the Negroes, a pivotal voting bloc in many important states, have yet to learn how to put the double whammy on the Eisenhower Republicans as they long have put it on Democratic liberals. Senator James O. Eastland, the Mississippi Democrat who heads the Senate Judiciary Committee, continues to be the Negro bogeyman, though for years it has been true that solid Republican support for civil rights would have swamped Eastland and his fellow-Southerners.

Instead, Republican congressional leaders have clung to their alliance with southern Democrats, trading votes in behalf of cloture and against civil rights for southern support on tax and fiscal policy.

Chairman Hall's call to arms threatens this conservative coalition which has been in the driver's seat in the Capitol since 1938. It will be a momentous change in the direction of American politics if the coalition is now deemed expendable in the interests of the new Republicanism.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

We Shall Sleep, But Not Forever

We shall sleep, but not forever. There will be a glorious dawn! We shall meet to part, no, never, On the resurrection morn! From the deepest caves of ocean From the desert and the plain, From the valley and the mountain, Countless throngs shall rise again.

When we see a precious blossom That we tended with such care, Rudely taken from our bosom, How our aching hearts despair! Round its little grave we linger, Till the setting sun is low, Feeling all our hopes have perished With the flower we cherished so.

Chorus: We shall sleep, but not forever, There will be a glorious dawn! We shall meet to part, no, never, On the resurrection morn!

We shall sleep, but not forever, In the lone and silent grave: Blessed be the Lord that taketh, Blessed be the Lord that gave. In the bright, eternal city Death can never, never come! In His own good time He'll call us From our rest, to Home, sweet Home.

By HORACE B. POWELL

No hymn ever sang more confidently about immortality than does this one.

"There will be a glorious dawn," says the hymnist, a morn of resurrection when from ocean, desert and plain, from valley and mountain, the dead shall rise to live eternally.

A New England woman, Mrs. M. A. Kidder, wrote the hymn verses shortly before the turn of the century. Silas Jones Vail, a prominent American composer, supplied the music. Mr. Vail wrote tunes for two other precious gospel songs, Fanny Crosby's "Close To Thee," and "Soldiers of Christ, Arise" by Charles Wesley.

Mrs. Kidder wrote the hymn, "Is My Name Written There?" and hundreds of others and for many of these, Ira D. Sankey, the evangelist-composer, created musical settings. Mrs. Kidder died at Chelsea, Massachusetts in 1905.

KENNETH W. HAGGARD

Sleeping Giant

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: What momentous questions confront the legislative bodies and executives of America today! The President and Congress are facing situations in the eastern hemisphere that they cannot for long complacently ignore, for the American people have placed their confidence and trust in them to guide the nation at home and abroad, come what may. The same may be said of all democratic nations of the free world about us. Our brothers in Hungary together with many thousands of people elsewhere under the heel of the tyrant are nobly enduring brutality after brutality in their fight towards that goal, freedom, that all men desire. No part of the people of the world can be subject to cruelty, hunger and the lash of slavery without its eventually seriously affecting the well-being and favorable conditions of the rest of the world's people. The infamy of the tyrant will sooner or later arouse and incite forces that will strike him from his throne. History has proven this time and time again.

The world today is dominated by two great giant nations. One of them is a sleeping giant and the other a very wide awake and active one. Will the first one have to have his toes burnt or his hair pulled out by the roots before he awakens?

This tyrant was permitted to take possession of the lives and fortunes of many small nations at the end of World War II, although the sleeping giant had in a major degree won the war. What a day of rejoicing it will be when the slave camp gates swing open wide and the slaves as free men outward stride!

NORVAL H. SMITH

Do We Mean Business?

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: A quoted statement of Secretary Dulles that Acheson's proposal is "quite irrelevant to the aim of demonstrating we mean business in blocking Communist aggression and subversion in the Middle East" deserves analysis. Omitting the "irrelevant," the President's policy is "to demonstrate that we mean business in blocking Communist aggression and subversion in the Middle East." Is this a new policy? Hardly. Does this great government conduct the nation's affairs in such a way that the world cannot tell where "it means business"?

We are told that we have the only great leader who can deal with the Communists, and whom they respect and fear. Within days of November 6 last, we had from the highest authority there was "good news from Suez" and that things were ship-shape in Egypt. It was also stated that this administration would not use force. And the loudest condemnation was poured upon our allies who did use force against what they judged to be aggression. Within the recent memory of man there was the Truman Doctrine which did stop Communist aggression in both Europe and the Middle East and which prepared force to be applied when and where needed through the NATO with members located in the Middle East. We also led in the resistance to Communist aggression in Korea which checked Communist aggression in Asia until President Eisenhower, in response to a campaign pledge, flew to Korea and stopped the application of force against aggression.

Now, when did we stop "meaning business" in blocking Communist aggression? Who stopped the application of force against Communist aggression and subversion? Who denounced our allies for fighting aggression and subversion?

Has anybody explained to the Congress or to the American people that he was mistaken, or said that he was sorry, or even stated that his peaceful methods have failed in the three great areas where they have been tried? Even the greatest popular endorsement in history should not blind intelligent people to this situation. If the world does not know that the United States means business against Communism, it is the President and Mr. Dulles who have been negotiating and making the promises. It was the President and Mr. Dulles who cried out against our allies in the NATO when three of them rose against Communist infiltration and subversion. In condemning this action, the United States joined with the Communist bloc in branding their action before the world in the United Nations.

Now, how can we make the world know that we mean business? It may be that the word of Congress is more trustworthy than that of the President, but Congress does not command our armed forces. The Congress has never failed the President yet when he faced a real international crisis.

Good Time Club

Hastings, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It was mighty nice of The Sunday Journal and Star of January 13 to devote so much valuable space to the Good Time Club of Lincoln. And no doubt it was a source of gratification to the city fathers to know the success which Mrs. Doris Pierce, who manages the organization, has made of the venture started nine years ago when about a dozen of us first met and organized the Good Time Club and became the charter members.

Growing from a dozen members to 600 at the present time clearly shows the interest which the older folks have in such recreation projects. One of the hardest problems the older folks have to meet is what to do with themselves when the day comes that they are no longer considered as having a place in the activities of any community because of their age. But that day comes to all of us who continue to live. Blessed is the city that recognizes that fact and seeks to do something about it. Congratulations all around.

Unsafe Drivers

Gibson, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In "The People Speak" column was an article headed "Traffic Laws." The writer acknowledged being a speed violator on the highways. He said enough that his car and driver's license should be taken away from him for good in my judgment. It is hard to teach old dogs new tricks.

Speeding by trucks at, say, 80 miles per hour, as many do in turning in ahead of trucks, they cannot tell whether they are going under a culvert beside the highway or going to turn around and meet the truck head-on. I have seen them do both as I have a 44-year safety card, and during most of that time was a truck driver. We've got to get these speeders off the road. Let's give their cars to safe drivers.

FRANK M. KELLIE

'Line Of Fire

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: After examining The Star's "Robertson Quail Shot Diagram" which appeared on the sports page of the January 15 issue, I feel compelled to make a few observations. If the diagram is accurate, Game Commissioner Robertson should feel very lucky that he brought down the quail instead of Heinzelman or Huppert who, according to the diagram, were in Robertson's line of fire.

The diagram leaves Huppert with no grounds for a "shooting" game bird from a public highway" complaint, but it certainly gives him the right to complain on another count. The diagram shows Huppert to be directly in Robertson's line of fire. This isn't the best place to be.

It all adds up to amateur hunting tactics on the part of man who, it would seem, should know better.

MISS JOYCE ELAINE LUGINBILL, who will become the bride of Donald E. Buck on Saturday, Jan. 19, at St. Mary's Cathedral.

At an 11 o'clock ceremony on Saturday, Jan. 19, Miss Joyce Elaine Luginbill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Luginbill, will become the bride of Donald E. Buck, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Buck. All-white gladioli and stock will form the chancel decor at St. Mary's Cathedral for the service, which will be solemnized by the Rev. John Zastrow in the presence of 350 guests, and Miss Catherine Gillespie, organist, will play the wedding music. Miss Gillespie also will accompany the vocal soloists, Miss Loretta Loos and Jerry Miller.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. John Carter of Table Rock will appear in a waltz-length frock of cranberry red velvet. A large flat bow of the velvet ending in long streamers forms the back interest of her full-skirted costume, which will be completed by a head bandeau of the velvet, and she will carry a velvet muff ornamented with a cluster of white carnations. Wearing identical ensembles will be Miss Hazel Luginbill of Humboldt, as the maid of honor;

Mrs. Ross Lane, Jr., and Miss Francis Luginbill of Humboldt, the bridesmaids; and Miss Connie Teater of Table Rock, the junior bridesmaid. Miss Jeanne Anne Young and Miss Pamela Downing will be the flower girls, and carrying the rings will be Robert Young and David Carter.

Norman Buck will serve as best man, and the corps of ushers will include Larry Buck, Clarence Lindgren, Ross Lane, Jr., and LeRoy Fox.

The bride has selected white peau de soie for her wedding gown which is designed in the period mode. A narrow band of pearl embroidery edges the rounded neckline of the long-sleeved bodice and is repeated at the high, Empire waist. The circular skirt flares into hemline width and extends into a chapel train, and a rounded cap of pearl-trimmed silk will hold her veil of French illusion. She will carry a white prayer book ornamented with a lavender orchid and sprays of stephanotis.

Miss Luginbill is a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University where she is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta.

Wedding On Friday

MRS. WYMAN KAARSTAD

Spreading fan arrangements of pink gladioli and white stock, pink carnations and white pompons formed an attractive background for the marriage of Miss Bonnie LaVon Sultzbaugh, daughter of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Sultzbaugh, to Staff Sgt. Wyman Edwin Kaarstad which took place on Friday evening, Jan. 18, at the Lincoln Air Force Base Chapel. Chaplain James C.

Walker solemnized the 7:30 o'clock service.

Mrs. Sultzbaugh was her daughter's matron of honor and appeared in a frock of pastel pink sequin-dotted net over satin. Her wrist corsage was of Frenched white carnations and pink sweetheart roses. Miss JoAnn Johnson of Oshkosh, the bridesmaid, appeared in a ballerina frock of pastel green net over matching satin. Beneath the fitted bodice the bouffant skirt was fashioned of lace-banded tiers of net. Her wrist corsage also was of Frenched white carnations and pink sweetheart roses. Atricia Louise Sultzbaugh was the flower girl.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Alva E. Sultzbaugh, chose a gown of imported Chantilly lace over satin for her wedding. Designed with a deep yoke of illusion, contoured with seed pearls and sequins and framed at the throat with a mandarin collar, the smoothly sculptured bodice was in the Empire mode. The extremely bouffant skirt was fashioned of lace ruffles which extended into a brief train. A coronet of pearls held in place her fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried gardenias, with a shower of stephanotis, on a white prayerbook.

A. I. C. Thomas R. Kearney of Springfield, O., served as best man, and seating the guests were A. I. C. John R. Mills, and Lawrence Haag of Detroit, Mich. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Alva E. Sultzbaugh. Sgt. Kaarstad and his bride will reside in Lincoln.

THINGS ARE happening around these parts — We no sooner had finished our story about the Lincoln traveler who is going to fly around the world, having just returned from the South Sea Islands and such, then we learned of another fascinating journey.

Around March 1, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Shaw and the four young Shaws, Leslie, Gregory, Christie and Cameron, will be leaving for Florida — From Florida to Lisbon, and after seeing some of the high spots in Portugal, the Shaw sixsome will travel by train through Spain and France — then cross the Channel into England. In England they will settle down in Devon and Cornwall for an eight weeks stay during which they will be joined by Mrs. Shaw's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Granger, who reside in the north of England — If we have figured correctly the Shaws will be returning home in late June.

UNDERSTAND that Mrs. Charles T. Stuart and Mrs. James Stuart will be brunch hostesses next Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Charles Stuart, when they pay prenuptial courtesy to Miss Mary Hall whose marriage to Jack Von Gillern will take place on Feb. 2. The guests, invited for the morning party and a miscellaneous shower, all will be members of Delta Gamma sorority.

AND, speaking of courtesies, there was the party for which Mrs. Thomas Beal (Jan Harrison — Kappa Kappa Gamma) was hostess on Thursday evening at her home when she entertained in honor of Mrs. Jack Lowe (Kay Schrader) who, with Mr. Lowe, leaves in February for San Diego, Calif. Eleven guests were invited for a dessert supper and informal evening.

Mr. Lowe, incidentally, will be graduating from the University of Nebraska College of Engineering in February, and has accepted a position with Convoir in San Diego.

HAVE some belated news from the Philadelphia Bassinet Club this morning tells us of the arrival of Miss Kathy Ann Bausback on Tuesday, Dec. 18. Mrs.

Bausback is the former Jackie Erway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Erway, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Bausback of N. Y.

Miss Kathy Ann's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Erway, have just returned from Philadelphia where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, and their very young granddaughter.

JUST HEARD that Dr. and Mrs. Fritz Teal and their family are to have a new address sometime within the next month. Dr. and Mrs. Teal have sold their home at 3121 Sheridan Blvd., to Mrs. Woodrow Magee, and have purchased a new home at 1625 So. 44th St.

MRS. LARRY GARRETT

With only the members of the immediate families attending the ceremony the marriage of Ann White, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. George Meade, to Lt. Larry Garrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Garrett of Ames, Ia., took place on Friday evening at the Lincoln Air Force Base Chapel. Chaplain I. M. Copeland solemnized the 8:30 o'clock service.

Miss Barbara Rhodes, as the maid of honor and only attendant, wore a frock of beige silk and lace, with small hat in matching tone. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Lt. Robert L. Goodrich served Lt. Garrett as best man.

The bride appeared in a frock of pastel blue lace and silk in matching tone. Beneath the sleeveless bodice of lace, designed with a rounded throat line, the exceedingly bouffant skirt, front paneled with lace, was waltz-length. She completed her costume with a small satin hat of pastel blue satin, and pinned to her shoulder was a corsage of white carnations.

Lt. Garrett attended Iowa State College at Ames, and now is stationed at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

SUBURBIA

The most frequent visitor to the homes of our Park Manor residents this week seems to be an unwelcome one, for after all, who would be enthusiastic of a visitation of the virus flu. Nevertheless there are a few healthy neighbors who have been able, thus far, to avoid the dread bug, and are abounding with news of interest.

In talking to Mrs. Robert Morrison this week we learned about a noteworthy project which she initiated for neighborhood children last September. The project is, in essence, a Bible study group called the "Good News Bible Club", and the club holds its meetings at the Morrison home every Friday afternoon from 3:45 o'clock to 5 o'clock. Children who are members of the group range from the ages of six years to 14 years and 22 children are participating at this time.

The sole purpose of the club is to give children a greater understanding of the Bible and the stories therein. In addition to relating the events of each story, Mrs. Morrison illustrates the characters and their actions by the use of a felt screen and felt-backed paper figures which she moves about as the plot progresses. The children also memorize various familiar passages of the Book as a part of their study.

Mrs. Morrison said, during our conversation, that she was having a thoroughly enjoyable time working with the children and would welcome any new members to the group.

Speaking of the younger generation reminds us of a very young lad who made his first appearance at St. Elizabeth Hospital last Tuesday morning. Capt. and Mrs. Paul Blinkinsop are the proud parents, and they have named their new son, Jay P. When Jay arrives home he will find his sister, Diane, and his brother, Walter, eagerly awaiting him.

Another member of the family on hand for the homecoming is Mrs. Blinkinsop's mother, Mrs. W. D. Jensen of Newell, Ia., who is visiting in Park Manor.

Guest of honor at a farewell party last Wednesday evening was Mrs. Russell Loerch. Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Gordon Pauley and Mrs. J. D. Cochran. The guests were invited to the Pauley residence for supper and an evening of bridge. Included in the guest list were Mrs. Carl Loerch, Mrs. Robin Loerch, Mrs. Raymond Cubie, Mrs. Jerry Mapes, and Mrs. John Malone.

Entertaining friends at a brunch today is Mrs. Gordon Pauley. This is certainly a party for the bridge enthusiast for the game will start in the morning and continue on into the afternoon. Guests will include Mrs. Kenneth McGinnis, Mrs. John Tidwell, Mrs. Eugene Allen, Mrs. Bud Anderson, Mrs. Edward Copple, Mrs. Jerry Mapes, and Mrs. Edward Stika.

A celebration of great interest will be the birthday party of Miss Judy Mann. The party will take place this afternoon at Judy's home, and members of the younger set who will be present are Miss Katherine Terry, Miss Sharon Morrison, Miss Diane Hamman, Miss Kay Deitemeyer, Miss Joyce Fultcher, Miss Kristin Lind, Miss Roberta Allen, Miss Linda Baxter, and Miss Sally Spohn. Judy, who is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. James H. Mann, will be celebrating her 12th birthday.

The 9 o'clock ceremony will be solemnized by the Rev. Gaudance Schroeder, and the wedding music will be played by Mrs. Robert Studnicka, organist. Mrs. Studnicka also will accompany the vocal soloist, Joseph Schroer.

Miss Ellen Mahoney, the maid of honor, will appear in a gold-toned crystaletto frock designed with a rounded neckline and brief sleeves in a fitted bodice, and a wide, ballerina length skirt. The bridesmaids, both sisters of the bridegroom will be Miss Diana Peters in green, and Miss Mary Jo Peters, who will wear the bronze shade. Their crystaletto frocks are fashioned identically to that worn by the maid of honor. Each of the attendants will carry a bouquet of bronze carnations.

The extremely bouffant skirt is floor length. Her lace-banded veil of illusion is held to the head with a small crown, and she will carry a bouquet of white roses.

After the reception, held in the church parlors, Mr. Peters and his bride will leave for a honeymoon trip to Colorado and upon their return will reside in Lincoln.

Fashioned with torso bodices ending in accentuated fullness at the hipline and wide skirts, their costumes are accented by back bows ending in long streamers and completed by pillbox caps of taffeta. They will carry crescents of blue-tinted carnations.

Roger Rocke will serve his brother as best man, and seating the guests will be Warner Grieson, Lanny Davis and Harley Varga.

The bride has chosen for her wedding a gown of ice-blue satin. The shoulder-wide decolletage of the molded bodice is contoured with imported Alencon lace which continues into the long, tapered sleeves, and beneath the elongated waist, the full skirt is caught into unpressed pleats and extends into a train. Her illusion veil will be held by a pillbox cap of lace and satin, and she will carry a white prayer book marked with a single white orchid and showered with stephanotis.

Upon returning from a southern wedding trip, for which the bride will wear a suit of grey tweed with white and black accessories, the couple will reside at 1730 C.

President Nasser Faces 'Revolution'

...When Business 'Egyptianized'

Nasser

Egyptian owned will have these effects:

Practically break off Egypt's economic ties with the West.

West Won't Invest

Scare off private Western investors, even though the new decrees do not immediately touch industrial concerns.

So alter Egypt's economy that no Western government is likely to give her economic aid or loans.

Virtually kill any chance Egypt has of getting loans from the World Bank.

Make Egypt increasingly dependent on the Communist bloc for any economic help.

Elimination of Western commercial interests will give the Communist countries a big chance to expand trade with Egypt.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—President Nasser's new laws "Egyptianizing" foreign banking, insurance and importing business may prove to be a bigger revolution than the overthrow of King Farouk or the nationalization of the Suez Canal.

Many well-informed observers, Egyptians and foreigners alike, expect the decrees requiring these enterprises to be 100 per cent Egyptian owned will have these effects:

Here's How To Work It

Baseball Trades In Air But No Deals Completed Yet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Major league baseball clubs continued to put their houses in order while trade winds still were blowing—but going nowhere.

Five players signed contracts for 1957, the Philadelphia Phillies added two farm clubs and General Manager Frank Lane of the St. Louis Cardinals, who'll pick up anyone at the drop of a player, denied that Alvin Dark was on the market. And the Pittsburgh Pirates gave up in a try for a deal with the Chicago Cubs.

Gerry Coleman of the New York Yankees came to terms for a reported $18,500. He hit .257 in 1956 while performing as a utility infielder. Smoky Burgess, slugging catcher of the Cincinnati Redlegs, also returned his signed contract as did pitchers Dave Newkirk, Jack McMahon and Ed Monahan of the Kansas City A's.

The Athletics, however, were unable to corral Virgil Trucks, the veteran righthander who was obtained in a deal with Detroit last month. Trucks returned his contract unsigned for the second time.

The Phillies, in the process of enlarging their farm system, added Tulsa of the Class A Texas League and Lewiston, Idaho.

The Cards' Lane is expected to talk trade with the Cubs over the weekend and with the Phillies next week. Meanwhile, he said that Dark, the club's regular shortstop, was coveted by several other National League clubs.

"I received three offers for him a month ago," he said. Lane named the New York Giants, who dealt Dark to St. Louis last June, the Cincinnati Redlegs and the Phillies as having made bids.

General Manager Joe L. Brown of the Pirates said efforts have been abandoned to make a player deal with the Cubs involving Pittsburgh outfielder Lee Walls and Chicago second baseman Gene Baker.

Brown said he had been discussing the possibility of a trade with the Cubs for several weeks, with Walls and Baker as the principal players, but could make no satisfactory arrangement.

In other news, baseball commissioner Ford Frick received Jackie Robinson's letter of retirement and the Brooklyn star was formally placed on the Dodgers' voluntary retired list. . . . Whitey Ford, the Yankees' ace southpaw, came down with the mumps and Carl Sawyer, former Washington Senators' infielder and clown, died.

LINKS NIP ROCKETS AGAIN, 50-46

Whip Doane In NCC Battle

Second-Half Comeback Gives Plainsmen 74-70 Win

Nebraska Wesleyan staged a thrilling second half rally Friday night to turn back Doane College, 74-70.

The homestanding Plainsmen hit hot and heavy for 45 points in the second half after trailing 29-39 at halftime.

The victory gave Wesleyan an overall 10-2 season mark and upped its Nebraska College Conference standing to 3-1. Doane now has a 2-2 NCC mark and suffered, its seventh setback of the year against four wins.

Doane broke a 29-29 deadlock with four minutes remaining in the opening half and rushed through 10 points by intermission to appear to be on the way to a rout.

Wesleyan's first half drought could be accounted to an unusual inaccuracy at the free throw line. The Plainsmen hit only one charity toss in 15 attempts. Their second half production was a better 13 for 22.

The Plainsmen forged into the lead, 56-55, with 11:54 left in the contest. They never trailed after that, however, the Tigers tied the tilt at 62-62.

Lefty Hixson then hit two successive 30-foot jump shots and the Wesleyan attack again blossomed.

With 2:16 remaining The Lefthander pushed through two free throws to move the reading to a more stable 70-66 in favor of the Plainsmen.

But, the Tigers kept clawing away with reserve Fred Brown hitting from far out before Bob Leslie of NWU hit a pair of free throws and the Plainsmen led, 76-68 with 33 seconds left. Norm Lastovica then came through with a tip-in for Doane's last pair of points. Wesleyan's Lowell Johnson tallied a security bucket with 10 seconds left for the final 74-70 tally.

Lastovica capped scoring honors in the NCC match with 25. Next came Wesleyan's Glen Reed with 24.

Loop scoring leader Don Vynalek of Doane scorched the nets for 22 to round out Doane's double figure check list.

Wesleyan's Johnson hit for 18 and Hixson and Leslie each countered with 12.

Lincoln Cinches City Title

By BOB McCOY
Star Sports Staff Writer

Lincoln High jumped to an early 18-point advantage and held back a determined Northeast rally that threatened to flood the dam as they took a 50-46 victory in an intracity thriller Friday night.

With a capacity throng on hand at the Lincoln High Activities Building, the Links hiked a 13-7 first quarter lead to a 35-17 advantage a little past the halfway mark in the second stanza and broke the Rockets' back.

In a game which saw a total of 39 fouls called and most of the scoring done from the charity stripe, Neil Unterseher got things going for the Links with a jump shot in the first attempt from the field.

But with the first period halfway gone, Claire Fredstrom dropped in a pair of free throws and Northeast led 7-6. It appeared that the Rockets ability to hit from the charity stripe (they got all their first quarter points from there) might enable them to stay even with the Links.

But Phil White dropped in a bucket and the Links were never headed as they romped to a 13-7 quarter margin.

And then big Brian (Okie) Etheridge and Unterseher took over to deliver the blows that killed any Rocket victory hopes.

The 6-8 Okie hit a pair of fielders and free throws and with just over three minutes gone the Links owned a 27-13 lead.

Next Unterseher stepped into the driver's seat and when he stepped out after hitting four straight jump shots the Links had a 35-17 lead with only two minutes remaining before halftime.

But the Rockets were not ready to quit yet as Jan Wall and Stan Lessman added eight points from the free throw line to cut the margin to 36-26 at intermission.

Wall and Lessman continued the pace after halftime and closed the gap to 36-31 before the Links could collect their wits.

After Unterseher and Elmer Wall had added buckets to put the Links on top, 40-31, the offensive show was turned over to Etheridge.

Bob Els and Wall added a pair of charity tosses apiece and the Rockets pulled close at 43-40 with 2:37 left in the quarter but Wall left the game with an ankle injury at this point and when he returned Etheridge had connected with a barrage of free tosses to put the game practically on ice for the Links.

The Links went into a stall with five minutes remaining in the contest and the ball handling of John Elliott and Bill Orwig paid off for the victory.

The closest the Rockets could come in the final stanza was 48-44 with 1:48 left and 50-46 at the final gun.

Etheridge topped the Link scoring column with 16 points while Unterseher's deadly gunning netted him 15. Wall collected 16 points, 10 of them on free throws to lead the Rockets while Els added 13.

The victory brought the Link record to 5-1 for the campaign and assured them complete control of the city Class AA championship. The Links edged the Rockets, 44-43, earlier in the season.

For Northeast it was the second loss, both to the Links, as opposed to six wins.

Bauer's 34 Peps Tutors, 69-52

BLAIR—With Marvin Bauer dropping in 34 points in a tremendous one man scoring show, the University High Tutors raced to their seventh victory of the season by trimming Blair here Friday night, 69-52.

Bauer potted 13 field goals and added 8 for 8 from the free throw line to garner his high total of the season.

Coach Dale Snook termed the game "one of the best University High efforts of the season" as the Tutors employed a hustling man-for-man defense and jumped to a 24-15 first quarter lead.

A Blair rally in the second period fell short and the Tutors held a 36-25 halftime advantage.

The steady gunning of Blair's Scorsenon, who pumped in 19 points and teammates Svengard and Thompson hitting for 12 and 14, respectively, the home crew stayed close but never could get on top.

University High's next game will be at Falls City next Friday night.

Holdrege Downs SE; Huge Hot

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

Holdrege High clipped Southeast's basketball team 69-54 at the Southeast gym Friday night, holding off a Southeast comeback as a late Holdrege stall almost backfired.

Holdrege, top-ranked Class A team in Nebraska, had a 43-31 halftime lead and a 53-45 third-quarter edge but went into a stall at the start of the last quarter.

Southeast's hustling Knights broke through and closed the gap to 58-51 with four minutes to play.

Then Coach Joe Simanek called off the stall and the Dusters quickly pulled away, hitting at a clip which resulted in a sizzling 55 per cent field goal average.

Only good outside shooting kept Southeast close to the high-scoring Dusters, who have averaged 69 points per game in winning seven straight after losing to Broken Bow in their opener.

It was the best Southeast effort of the season but the Knights will need another big game Saturday night. Southeast visits Fremont, the leading Class AA team in Nebraska.

Jim Huge, the ex-University High cager who has been sparking the Holdrege attack from his center position, came back to haunt his former Lincoln neighbors. He made 11 field goals in 19 attempts and ended with 23 points.

He had help from John Burgeson (16), Bob Peck (10) and Brian Paulson, whose 12 points included five field goals out of five attempts.

Roger Hesson with 18 and Ron Keal with 17 were the high scorers for Southeast.

Hitting from all angles, the Dusters zipped away to leads of 14-6, 23-14, 29-18 and 37-24 in the first half. Huge's five baskets in the second period boosted Holdrege to a 12-point halftime lead.

Southeast closed to within eight points as Holdrege tossed away scoring opportunities in the third period. In the fourth period a stall baffled the Knights only momentarily and Southeast began to give serious pursuit.

The the Dusters dropped the stall and moved away as the Knights tired.

Bill To Allow Hunting From Roads Introduced

A bill to repeal the law which forbids hunting from the highway was introduced Friday in the Nebraska Legislature.

Sens. William Moulton of Omaha, Frank Nelson of O'Neill and Le Roy Hulsebus of Palmer, placed the measure, LB 194, in the legislative hopper.

The law involved is the one which brought on the widely publicized "Robertson case," which a legislative committee currently is investigating.

A charge of shooting from a highway was lodged against Game Commission member Donald Robertson of North Platte but was withdrawn later at Commission Director Melvin O. Steen's direction.

Steen reportedly favors repeal of the road hunting law.

Also introduced Friday was a bill authorizing expenditure of receipts from the 1955 Upland Game Stamp Act.

Sen. Frank Nelson of O'Neill introduced an act, LB 236, which would permit hunters to carry on any public highway a shotgun with shells in the storage chamber, although carrying a shell in the firing chamber still would be illegal.

A bill introduced by Sen. John G. Donner of Elgin would allow hunting of raccoons and possums with a spotlight.

I-State Hires UCLA Aid

Myers To Get $14,000

By CY DOUGLASS

AMES, Iowa (AP)—Iowa State College stretched to the Pacific Coast Friday for a new head football coach, signing James A. Myers, 35, head line coach at UCLA, for three years at $14,000 annually.

Myers agreed to replace Vince DiFrancesca, who resigned in November, by telephone and arranged to come to Iowa State next week to look over his football squad and plan spring practice. At the same time, he will announce his aides.

The salary is the highest ever paid an Iowa State football coach—there have been 20 ahead of Myers—and college officials said Friday's developments represented a determination on the part of ISC to improve its football showing.

That has been mediocre or worse for several seasons. Last year's Cyclones had only a 2-8 record.

Myers, a player and 1947 graduate of Tennessee, will bring power single wing football to Iowa State. He was one of 12 men interviewed from an original list of 75 applicants for the post.

Fast action on the part of the ISC athletic council and the selection of Harold W. Lahar as coach at the University of Houston today, ended the search for a new Cyclone coach.

Lahar, former Colgate coach and Myers had been announced as the two top choices for only a short time before Houston revealed that Lahar was its man.

Myers, who has been an assistant to UCLA's Red Sanders since 1949, said "the opportunity at Iowa State is wonderful and I'm looking forward to it with enthusiasm. Everyone seems to think it's a tough assignment, and I'm sure it will be. But I've been assured of complete backing from the administration and alumni."

Concordia Wins, 63-58

High point maker for the Kansas team was Lee Penner with 21 points.

Lahar New Grid Coach At Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—The University of Houston Friday selected Harold Lahar, head man at Colgate since 1952, as its new football coach.

Lahar succeeds Bill Meek, who resigned two weeks ago to accept a long-term contract at Southern Methodist.

"I feel we're fortunate in obtaining one of the outstanding coaches in the nation," said Athletic Director Harry Fouke. "We sought him. He wasn't job hunting, but we were looking for the best man who was doing more with his material than anybody else."

Fouke said details of the contract would have to come from Lahar.

At his Hamilton, N. Y., home, Lahar said by telephone he hoped to be in Houston by the middle of next week to sign a three-year contract. He declined to give other details of the agreement.

No Decision About Aids Yet—Elliott

Pete Elliott, newly appointed University of California football coach, arrived in Lincoln Friday night for a brief stay during which the future of Nebraska's assistant coaches may be decided.

Elliott is scheduled to meet with his successor, Bill Jennings, to "outline the recruiting program we had started."

Questioned about whether his assistants at Nebraska—Dee Andros, Don Scarbrough, Don Strasheim and Gene Stauber—will follow him to California, Pete said "I am not sure. I have no idea as yet on my assistants."

He said that he would have "basically a free choice" of his assistants at California. Spring practice at California is scheduled to begin April 8. Elliott said he hoped to have a complete staff lined up by then but indicated that he might not have.

The future of the assistants may be decided, at least in part, in scheduled conferences involving Elliott, NU Athletic Director Bill Orwig, Jennings and the assistants.

Elliott said he would also conclude personal business during his stay.

This was Elliott's first visit to Lincoln since the announcement of his signing at California. Elliott said "I am sorry that this had to be dragged out for so long but these things must be done in a certain way."

New building houses Piedmont Pharmacy, Luncheonette

New Pharmacy, Luncheonette In Piedmont Opens Saturday

Neighborhood drug store and eating facilities are now available to residents of the rapidly growing area around 50th and Cotner Blvd. with the opening Saturday of Vincent DiFiori's modern Piedmont Pharmacy and Luncheonette.

The new $80,000 building features some of the most modern interior fixtures available, including self-service display islands of metal mesh and wood.

Indirect lighting and large areas of window space add to the modern design of the interior. Flooring is of vinyl tile in tans and grays.

DiFiori

The luncheonette section will seat a capacity of 70 persons. Windows of the eating area look out over the Piedmont residential district.

DiFiori, who lives at 3440 Lake, took over operation of the 5,000 square foot pharmacy after the sudden death in October of the original lessee, Jack Cohen. DiFiori formerly was with the accounting division of the Cooper Foundation for 20 years, and has been in the theater business for 27 years.

He commented that he felt a large drug operation in this part of town was a challenge and an opportunity that he could not afford to pass up.

Natural Stone
The exterior of the Piedmont Pharmacy is finished in Bedford and Silverdale stone of natural color. Ample off-street parking, now available, will again be expanded to 50-car capacity when shopping center is expanded in late 1957 or early 1958.

Twelve persons will be employed in the Piedmont Pharmacy, according to DiFiori. He explained that he plans to follow the pattern of operation originally outlined by Mr. Cohen.

Drug store hours will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., with the luncheonette opening at 7:30 a.m. to serve breakfasts.

First Completed

The pharmacy is the first completed structure of an L-shaped shopping center being built by the C. C. Kimball Co. on the 4 1/2-acre tract bounded by 50th and Cotner. The completed center, estimated to cost $600,000, will house a super-market and smaller retail shops.

Present business in the area are a Phillips Service Station, Ben Your Hairdresser and Mrs. Olson's Pastries.

The triangular tract of the new shopping center was originally zoned for business years ago when Charles Stuart Sr. planned a community center development in 1927.

Kickoff Meet Of Farm Bureau Set

Midwestern officers and directors of the Farm Bureau will meet in Omaha Monday for a three-day "Farm Bureau Kickoff" meeting. This is one of four being held in the country during the next two weeks.

Sessions will be held to discuss Farm Bureau policy, machinery for maximum effectiveness in implementing the Farm Bureau program, and plans to accomplish the Farm Bureau's legislative objectives.

American Farm Bureau president Charles B. Shuman will be the main speaker at several of the meetings.

America pageant last year.

With a grade average of 93, she is treasurer of Builders, a student service group; president of the Student Union board, and a member of Mortar Board.

Dr. Broady since 1941 has headed the Extension Division which has become "one of the most modern and complete services of its kind in a state university," the letter nominating him for "Outstanding Nebraskan" said.

Serving the university "unselfishly and loyally" for 27 years, Dr. Broady "has brought the highest type of recognition to his school" throughout the nation and the world, the letter said.

Sentence Omahan For Manslaughter

OMAHA (AP) — Fred Arthur Edmonds, 22, of Omaha was sentenced to six years in the reformatory for manslaughter.

Edmonds was convicted by a District Court jury in the Sept. 9, 1954, slugging of Airman G. W. DuBose. Edmonds appealed from a six-to-eight-year sentence in the reformatory, and the State Supreme Court held that an indeterminate sentence should not be given in a crime of violence.

District Judge James T. English imposed sentence.

Construction Boom Leveled Off In '56

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The construction boom which has flourished in Nebraska during the last decade leveled off in 1956.

In some communities the leveling off period began earlier, but an Associated Press survey of construction in major cities of the state showed the trend clearly.

This does not necessarily have ominous tinge although many communities have started to feel the pinch of the drought. In some cases it simply means that big projects which swelled the figures mightily in recent years are now completed, and the communities are not yet ready to go ahead with other projects of magnitude. Figures from 10 cities showed construction totals off in 1956 anywhere from a few thousand dollars to 50 to 60 per cent.

The biggest decline noted was at Beatrice, an outstanding sample of "catching up." In 1955 Beatrice had 3½ million dollars worth of construction, including four schools valued at one million dollars, a hospital valued at $900,000, and a new telephone headquarters valued at $200,000. In 1956 Beatrice construction totaled an estimated $1,125,005—just about the same as the 1955 total exclusive of the six big projects.

Record Permits
In Omaha, the state's largest, city, which boasts $662,331,285 in new construction during the post-war decade, 1956 saw a record number of building permits—5,907 valued at $38,779,020. But since 1955 when 4,542 permits covering construction valued at $27,499,138, the city's jurisdictional area has been extended by three miles. This annexation covers an area where building activity has been heaviest.

Actual housing starts in the greater Omaha area, which includes Bellevue, Ralston and Palillion, were down from 3,753 in 1955 to 2,288 in 1956. Construction slumped more than six million dollars in Lincoln during 1956, permits being issued for 2,216 projects valued at $14,227,927 compared with 3,010 permits for $20,472,203 1955 year. Single family homes totaled 840 in 1956 compared with 1,716 the previous years.

Here city-by-city is the remainder of the picture of 1956 construction in Nebraska:

Grand Island: 1,572 building permits issued for construction valued at $1,496,923, nearly a million dollars less than 1955 and far below the five-million dollar boom year of 1953, peak in Grand Island's school and church building program. Heaviest construction in Grand Island was about half of the 1955 dollar total.

Faribault: 89 permits totaled an estimated $218,755 of construction compared with $344,620 in 1955. Five dwellings were begun in 1956 compared with 13 in 1955 and 17 in 1954. The 1955 figure was swelled by a $148,000 modification of the city hall.

Frederick: 15 permits issued during 1956 for work totaling $26,500 compared with 103 permits for work valued at $392,242 in 1955 and 110 permits for $68,417 worth of work in 1954. Dwelling construction dipped 45 in 1954 to 32 in 1955 and 22 in 1956. The cost of new homes was up about $1,300 last year from an average of $7,337 in 1955 to $8,463 in 1956. Commercial buildings were valued at $2,300,000 compared with $301,200 in 1955, but a new church accounted for about half of the total.

Frederick: Construction down 13 per cent from 1955 with a total of $2,871,500 in 1956 compared with $3,300,000 in 1955. Dwelling construction totaled $1,300,000 in 1956 compared with $1,300,000 in 1955. Residence building totals were under both 1954 and 1955.

North Platte: The value of 1956 construction was estimated at $1,217,225 last year compared with $1,234,430 in 1955. Residence buildings were valued at $1,200,000 in 1956 compared with $1,200,000 in 1955. Commercial buildings, though down two in number of permits, were valued at $250,000 in 1956 compared with $250,000 in 1955.

Omaha: Total number of permits up 104 in 1956 from 1,036 in 1955. Value of buildings up from $56,350 to $82,170. Dwelling construction valued at $1,200,000 in 1956 compared with $1,200,000 in 1955. Commercial construction valued at $1,200,000 in 1956 compared with $1,200,000 in 1955. Commercial buildings were valued at $1,200,000 in 1956 compared with $1,200,000 in 1955.

Sidney: Building permits issued for construction valued at $1,200,000 in 1956 compared with $1,200,000 in 1955. Dwelling construction valued at $1,200,000 in 1956 compared with $1,200,000 in 1955. Commercial buildings were valued at $1,200,000 in 1956 compared with $1,200,000 in 1955.

Blast Damages Hebron Bakery; No One Injured
HEBRON, Neb.—Two men escaped injury here Friday as a gas oven exploded in the Wilcox Bakery, considerably damaging the building housing the bakery.

Quinn Wilcox, operator of the bakery, said he lighted the oven, and about 20 minutes later saw a flash followed by the explosion. The blast damaged the oven, blew a large plate glass window out of the front of the shop, broke windows in the rear and blew debris over the interior of the building.

Wilcox and a helper, Virgil Voss, were in the room with the oven but were far enough away to escape injury. Wilcox said he had all new equipment and had recently redecorated the interior of the building.

No cause of the blast has been determined, Wilcox said. He and his wife operated a bakery at North Platte for many years before coming to Hebron this fall. The Hebron bakery will be closed a few days until a new oven is installed, Wilcox added.

Parade Has Fast Test Run

Bunting, Barricades And Bleachers Are Up
WASHINGTON (AP) — The bunting, barricades and snow-clad bleachers are up, the parade had a fast test run Friday, and the national capital embarked on five days of a festive million-dollar inauguration for President Eisenhower.

Dwight D. Eisenhower will take the oath of office for his second term at a private ceremony at the White House Sunday, then go through a ceremonial repeat performance before the United States Capitol building Monday.

A long series of events attached to this quadrilateral affair stretches out before and afterward.

Friday there were a New York State Society reception, a Republican women's tea and fashion show, and a test for one of the grand marches — only they call them promenades — for one of the four inaugural balls to be staged Monday night.

Then there was that test run for the parade Friday, staged by the Army, tracked by television and pronounced satisfactory by Maj. Gen. John G. Van Houten, the man who ran it. It took 32 minutes for the test units to cover the historic route along Pennsylvania avenue from the Capitol to the White House.

On that basis, the 34 floats and an elephant — will make it Monday in close to 2½ hours. That would be some two hours under the time four years ago, when the procession still was ambulating along well after dark. The word from Eisenhower was to make it shorter this year.

Public Apathy Is Called Big School Block
Public apathy is the greatest problem facing American school boards today, William A. Shannon of Chicago told the closing session of the State School Boards Association convention Friday in Lincoln.

Stocks Fall Off To Two-Month Low

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market, battered down in a late wave of selling, took its worst beating Friday since Oct. 31 the day of the British-French attack on Egypt.

Pivotal issues lost from fractions to 4 1/2 points.

Floor transactions near the close in a wave of nervous selling followed the Russian-Chinese declaration that they would "aggression and interference by the Eastern power doctrine."

But the market was sharply lower even before that. The reasons for this were not quite so plain because the opening was higher in active trading. The bulk of the session looked like the start of the week. But prices gradually weakened and there was no pickup in volume and for no outstanding reason.

The early rise was ascribed by brokers to a continuation of late Thursday's firming tendency as the Federal Reserve board developed. The gradual weakening later was due in part to profit taking by traders and the normal disposition to clear the decks prior to week-end uncertainty.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $2.10 to $176.00, the Dow Jones industrial average down $3.30, the S&P 500 down $2.10 and the utilities down 30 cents.

Based on the average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange fell an estimated 2 1/2 billion dollars.

Volume totaled 2,400,000 shares compared with 2,140,000 Thursday.

On the American Stock Exchange prices declined on volume of 800,000 shares compared with 830,000 Thursday.

Grains Firm Late After Weak Start

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains firmed late in the session on the Board of Trade Friday after drifting lower during the forepart of the day.

Final prices for most cereals were a little higher, although not enough to encourage any great enthusiasm among the bulls. New crop wheat and old crop soybeans were up most.

Wheat closed 1/4 cent higher, corn 1/2 cent higher, oats unchanged to 1/2 cent higher, soybeans 1/2 cent lower, soybean meal 1/2 cent lower.

Some brokers thought part of the demand for soybeans may have been based on a public hearing will be held in Washington Jan. 31 on a proposal to quarantine Missouri, North Carolina and Tennessee for the soybean cyst nematode.

The news raised the possibility of crop destruction in these states from this pest.

New crop wheat futures, which were a public hearing will be held in Washington Jan. 31 on a proposal to quarantine Missouri, North Carolina and Tennessee for the soybean cyst nematode.

In the cash market both soybean oil and soybean meal edged.

Motor Boats, Constitution, Alcohol Taxes, Motor Fuels Taxes Among New Bills

Among the 62 bills introduced into the Legislature Friday were proposals pertaining to outboard motor boats, Nebraska's Constitution, alcohol taxes and motor fuels taxes.

The new bills include a long string of Judiciary Committee measures which would largely revise and correct laws in line with Nebraska Bar Association recommendations.

The total number of bills at the end of the 14th legislative day Friday stood at 253, compared with 195 at the same time two years ago.

Motor Boats

A bill to regulate and register outboard motor boats in Nebraska had stormy going and was later swamped in committee following a hearing Friday.

The bill, LB 60, was downed unanimously by the Committee on Miscellaneous Subjects of the Legislature. Its introducer, Sen. Arthur Swanson of Holdrege, said "we must do something now and not wait until a tragedy occurs."

He was referring to regulation controlling boat speeds and operation in a "careful manner."

A co-introducer of the measure, Sen. George Syas of Omaha, said it wasn't his intent to discourage boating and asked that if the bill couldn't be amended to pleasure of boating people in the state, it either be killed or his name be taken off the measure.

Opposition to the bill ranged from several boating clubs throughout the state to the "founding father" of the Outboard Boating Club of America who made a surprise appearance. He is Harry Warham of Manhattan, Kan.

He suggested holding the bill for further consideration and possible revision pending investigations in Washington on federal laws governing boating in the U.S.

Organized opposition to the measure generally was marshalled behind C. C. Sheldon who represented several boating clubs in the state.

stitution was the subject of another bill introduced Friday.

The measure, LB 238, calls for a popular vote by Nebraskans on a proposal to call a constitutional convention for purpose of making whatever revisions are indicated.

Nebraska last held such a convention in 1920 and 41 proposals came out of it. Since then, all constitutional changes have been piecemeal.

Introducing the bill were Sens.

David Tews of Norfolk, Monroe Bixler of Harrison and August Wagner of Columbus.

A similar bill failed to win approval two years ago.

Alcohol Taxes

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth introduced a bill calling for higher taxes on alcoholic beverages in Nebraska.

The bill, LB 241 makes these revisions in the tax imposed upon the privilege of manufacturing or distributing alcoholic beverages at wholesale:

Beer: up from four cents to eight cents per gallon.

Wine with 14 per cent of alcohol: up from 55 to 75 cents a gallon.

Alcohol and spirits: up from $1.20 to $1.50 per gallon.

Motor Fuels Taxes

A measure hiking the tax on diesel and other special motor fuels was also introduced Friday.

It would add three cents to the present six cents a gallon tax paid on such special fuels.

Diesel fuel is used by many larger trucks and some senators have contended that the diesel tax should be higher than the gas tax because diesel-powered vehicles make more miles to the gallon.

Introducing the bill, LB 192, were Sens. Le Roy Bahensky of Palmer, Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island, and Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth.

Interfraternity Officers At NU Resign

William Krommenhoek, of Sioux City, Ia., was elected temporary chairman of the University of Nebraska Interfraternity Council following the resignation of three officers of the Council.

The resignations of Sam Ellis, Lincoln, president; Bob Schuyler, Grand Island, secretary, and Ben Belmont, Omaha, treasurer, followed a vote by the members of the Council showing that a majority favored the action.

Mike Neff, Lexington, submitted a statement for the Council saying: "They submitted their resignations in the best interests of the Council due to their failure to agree on basic policies."

Krommenhoek, president of Delta Upsilon fraternity, was elected temporary chairman until elections are held Feb. 6. He said he was "neutral in the discussion."

The vice president of the Council, Dick Andrews, had been removed earlier in the week by the Office of Student Affairs when he was placed on conduct probation for failure to pay outstate tuition.

Interim Studies Likely To Be Cut

A Rules Committee proposal directed at cutting down the number of between session studies made by the Legislative Council received favorable reaction from legislators Friday.

Under the change, a resolution proposing an interim study of any subject would be referred first to the executive committee of the Legislative Council. The committee would recommend for or against the study but the final decision would continue to be up to the Legislature as a whole.

The Legislative Council contains all 43 senators.

Omaha Sen. Karl Vogel, speaking for the rules change just prior to its 34-3 approval, said too many interim studies are being made.

Some committees merely rubber-stamp the work of the Legislative Council's director of research, he said. And the practice of scheduling committee meetings so as to bring the senators to Lincoln on Saturdays when the University of Nebraska is playing home football games has provoked some "criticism," he added.

"I don't believe the State of Nebraska profits from the money spent on these reports," Vogel declared.
